

PRESS RELEASE

Kenyan Airport Authority Supply Contracts:

Continuing on with our success in the African Civil Aviation Authority Market, Metalite is delighted to announce the signing of two supply contracts for the Kenyan Airport Authority.

The two systems comprising of Metalite's CALKIT and VIS PAPI systems are destined for Moi and Garissa Airports, the system at Moi will provide essential backup in case of failure of the existing fixed lighting system and in Garissa the CALKIT will form part of the main lighting system allowing night time flights.

Metalite Aviation Lighting a trading division of Aeronautical & General Instruments Limited have been the supplier of choice for Portable Airfield Lighting to a number of Civil Aviation Authorities in Africa such as Botswana, Uganda and Zimbabwe. Metalite's Portable Aviation Lights are considered by our customers to be of high quality and durable, providing many years of dependable service. Systems such as the CALKIT in Ghanzi Botswana have now been in service for over 18 years and still going strong.

Rob White, Technical Sales Manager for Metalite said 'It has been a pleasure to work with the Kenyan Airport Authority and we are delighted to be supplying systems which will provide, in the case of Garissa, the ability for night time flights which may include essential emergency medical evacuations if required'.

For further information on the Metalite product range please visit our website www.metaliteaviation.com or email info@metaliteaviation.com alternatively contact our sales team on +44 (0)1202 689099.

END

Tuesday, 13 July 2010